EXECUTIVE COUNCIL
Fifteenth Ordinary Session
24 – 30 June 2009
Sirte, Libya

EX.CL/534 (XV)

REPORT ON THE ELECTION OF MEMBERS OF THE AFRICAN UNION COMMISSION ON INTERNATIONAL LAW

REPORT ON THE ELECTION OF THE MEMBERS OF THE AFRICAN UNION COMMISSION ON INTERNATIONAL LAW

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The African Union Commission on International Law (AUCIL) established by Article 2 of the Statute of the African Union Commission on International Law and in accordance with Article 5(2) of the Constitutive Act of the African Union.

2. The objectives of the AUCIL are as set out in Article 4 of the Statute are as follows:

- a) to undertake activities relating to codification and progressive development of international law in the African continent with particular attention to the laws of the Union as embodied in the Treaties of the Union, in decisions of the policy organs of the Union and in African customary international law arising from the practice of Member States;
- b) to propose draft framework agreements, model agreements, model regulations, formulations and analysis of emerging trends in States' practice to facilitate the codification and progressive development of International Law;
- c) to assist in the revision of existing treaties, assist in the identification of areas in which new treaties are required and prepare drafts thereof;
- d) to conduct studies on legal matters of interest to the Union and its Member States;
- e) to encourage the teaching, study, publication and dissemination of literature on international law in particular the laws of the Union with a view to promoting acceptance of and respect for the principles of international law, the peaceful resolution of conflicts, respect for the Union and recourse to its Organs, when necessary.

II. COMPOSITION

3. AUCIL is composed of eleven (11) members of recognised competence in international law, who are nationals of Member States and who must serve in their personal capacity.

4. In terms of Article 3(2) of the AUCIL Statute, the AUCIL shall not include more than one (1) national of the same state.

III. REQUIREMENTS FOR APPOINTMENT

5. These requirements are set out in Article 3 of the Statute, which reads as follows:

“ 1. The AUCIL shall consist of eleven (11) members of recognised competence in international law, who are nationals of Member States and who shall serve in their personal capacities.

2. No two (2) members shall be nationals of the same State.

3. The composition of the AUCIL shall reflect and respect the principles of equitable geographical representation, the principal legal systems of the Continent and equitable gender representation. ”

6. Article 11 of the Statute provides that “Members of the Commission on International Law are elected by the Executive Council by secret ballot”. The election of the Members shall be governed by this Statute and the Rules of Procedure of the Executive Council.

7. Vide its Notes Verbale references BC/OLC/42.23/1353.09.Vol.II and BC/OLC/42.23/1559.09.Vol.II dated 20 March and 8 May 2009, respectively, the Commission informed Member States that the election of members of AUCIL will be conducted during the 15th Ordinary Session of the Executive Council scheduled in June 2009.

8. The Commission also drew the attention of Member States, vide its notes verbale dated 20 March and 8 May 2009, to the requirements for election as member of AUCIL as set out in Article 3 of the Statute.

9. Accordingly, Member States were to request nominees to complete biographical information indicating judicial, practical, academic, activist, professional and other relevant competence and experience in the field of International law. Such biographical information should also include information on political and other associations relevant to determining questions of both eligibility and incompatibility.

10. Member States were also reminded to ensure adequate gender representation in their nominations and in the election and to bear in mind the need to continue to enhance the independence and operational integrity of the African Union Commission on International law.

11. The Commission wishes to draw the attention of the Executive Council to the latter’s decision during elections for the Advisory Board on Corruption held in January 2009, that in elections for AU bodies where candidates exist from all the AU regions, each region should be represented by at least one member.

12. The Executive Council may wish to take note that from the fourteen (14) candidatures received as indicated hereunder, Central has two (2) candidates,

East has five (5), North has three (3), South has two (2) and West has two (2). In terms of gender representation in the nominations, there is only one female candidate (from East).

VI. CANDIDATURES RECEIVED

3. Summary of Professional skills /Expertise:

I have considerable national and International experience in international law, especially in relation to codification and progressive development of international law, with particular attention to the laws of the Union, the decisions of the policy organs and in African customary international law arising from the practice of Member States. For the last two years, I have been working, mainly on matters related to the development and codification of international law instruments governing relations between States Parties on the one hand and responsibilities of states under international law, most importantly, its impact on the laws and treaties of the African Union.

I consider myself to be particularly qualified for the above post because of my knowledge and practical experience in national and international law for the last 22 years I worked in the Ministry of Justice and Constitutional Affairs. I have sufficient experience in the preparation of framework agreements, model regulations, formulation and analyses of emerging trends in States practice to facilitate the codification and adequate development of international law, identification and assisting in the revision of new and existing treaties, and I have been conducting numerous studies on legal matters.

I have ample experience from Administrator General's Department in the peaceful resolution of post conflict or transitional society, emerging from a war/internal conflict situation, especially having handled and successfully resolved many conflicts related to inheritance in Northern and North-Eastern Uganda for the last 20 years, in accordance to international guidelines for conflict resolutions.

I have strong leadership, managerial and decision making skills spread over 21 years of working experience in handling and dealing with people from diverse origins around the world and it is my knowledge of international law and expertise in conflict resolution which is a key component in my ability to deliver results.

Finally, I have the judicial, academic, activist, professional and relevant experience in the field of international law.

4. Summary of relevant work experience:

I have been representing Uganda/Ministry of justice and Constitutional Affairs on AU meetings and Protocol/Conventions in different fora. I participated in, among other things, the 7th annual regional seminar on international humanitarian law, Pretoria, June 2007. The focus of the seminar was the ratification and implementation of the international humanitarian law (IHL) instruments, for the enhancement of the regional strategy for the full implementation of relevant treaties. I presented a paper on the status of ratification of IHL instruments by Uganda. I have been assisting the Solicitor general on ratification of the international instruments. Represented Uganda and worked in collaboration with AU and other organizations to broaden conflict prevention strategy through promotion of democracy, good governance and human rights in countries emerging from conflicts, and presented a paper in March 2008 in Bujumbura, on the situation in Uganda and how conflict, good governance and human rights issues are handled in accordance with international standards.

From December 2007-November 2008, I was a nominee and a participant in the proposed AU convention for the protection and assistance of internally displaced persons in Africa. I was a team leader for the drafting committee on the final English draft text which is awaiting approval by the Heads of State of the Member States.

I am currently working closely with the Government of Uganda for the protection of internally displaced persons (IDPs), and in the implementation of the Peace Recovery and Development Plan (PRDP) in Northern Uganda, to streamline the inheritance of properties, resettlement and resolution of conflicts among the stakeholders, caused by over 20 years of insurgency.

I am also the Ag Administrator General/Public Trustee of the Republic of Uganda, having been appointed to the acting portfolio on the 13th March 2008. Some of my specific duties include: being in charge of litigation and supervision of professional and non professional staff, administration of estates both within and out, including properties of enemy states; advising the Solicitor General on cases for and against the department and coordinating their prosecution and/or defence thereof, holding both moveable and immovable properties in trust for minor children and persons of unsound minds, drafting legal agreements, model regulations, formulations and analysis of emerging trends in administration of estates in line with international law.

I have been an advocate of the Supreme Court, Court of Appeal and High court of Uganda and other subordinate Courts in Uganda for over 20 years.

5. Individual criminal responsibility: concept, reality and challenges since Nuremberg (not yet published).

6. AU Languages: I am fluent in English Language.

7. Other relevant & supporting information:

- April 2004 - March 2008: Senior Principal State Attorney/ Deputy Administrator General.

CAREER OBJECTIVE

Currently I am an Assistant Deputy Chief Legal Officer in the Ministry of Justice, National Cohesion and Constitutional Affairs and I have also served as a Principal State Counsel in the State Law Officer up to 2004 when I joined the Ministry. As summarized herein, I have vast knowledge, understanding and experience in the application of the law in public administration. I am also well equipped with skills and expertise in administration. I am also well equipped with skills and expertise in understanding legal policy formulation, legal reforms, public policy and governance. In addition, this complement my legal training and exposure in international legal issues, in particular, international relations, diplomacy and international human rights which form the core and the fundamentals of articulating national concerns at the global level. Given this background, I have developed a keen interest in the public sector, particularly in developing strategies the ensure people-driven public policy formulation and implementation of the law. I am convinced that it is through the development of participatory frameworks in the application of the law that we come to understand the dynamics of globalization and appreciate how they interface with and impact on issues of participatory democracy, good governance, reasonable development and human rights.
