

LOME DECLARATION

We, the Heads of State and Government of the Organization of African Unity (OAU) meeting at the Thirty-sixth Ordinary Session of our Assembly in Lome, Togo from 10 to 12 July, 2000,

Firmly committed to the fundamental principles and objectives of the OAU Charter adopted by the Founding Fathers, namely, political independence, respect for the sovereignty and territorial integrity of States, promotion of peace, security, co-operation, development and human and peoples rights,

Conscious of the persistence of conflict situations and acts of violence which are seriously undermining the security and stability of our States, and gravely hampering our development efforts,

Convinced of the need to work towards the maintenance of regional and international peace and security, in accordance with the United Nations Organization (UN) and OAU Charters,

Noting with concern that the reform of the Security Council aimed at aligning its membership and functioning to new exigencies is long overdue,

Deploring the fact that the International Community has not always accorded due attention to conflict management in Africa, as it has consistently done in other regions of the world, and that the efforts exerted by Africans themselves in the area of peace keeping, as provided for under Chapter VII of the United Nations Charter, are not given adequate financial and logistical support,

Gravely Concerned by the growing number of refugees and displaced persons on the African Continent, as a result of all these conflicts,

Also deploring the growing deterioration of the prices of raw materials and the obstacles militating against access of African countries to international trade,

Further Gravely concerned by the negative effect of indebtedness on African economies and by the persistent decline of ODA and investments in our countries,

Recognizing that Africa's progress and economic and social development are contingent upon the integration of African economies, as stipulated in the Abuja Treaty establishing the African Economic Community,

Considering the imperative need to strengthen African economies in order to enable them to benefit from the globalization process,

Stressing the importance of the International Community's contribution to efforts by African States for sustainable development, a prerequisite for peace and security,

Further stressing the importance of technology transfer for Africa's industrial development,

Further Recognizing that misery, poverty, hunger, disease, injustice, illiteracy and war constitute major impediments to the development and advancement of our peoples,

Recalling the importance of education, training and capacity building in Africa's development process,

Also Recognizing the preponderant place and role of African women in the economic, social, human and cultural development, as well as in the edification of a harmonious and prosperous African society,

Further Considering that cross-border criminality, illicit proliferation circulation and trafficking of small arms and light weapons, drug trafficking, corruption and terrorism constitute serious threats to security and stability, and hamper the harmonious economic and social development of the Continent,

Bearing in mind our Decision AHG/Dec. 137 (LXXV) of July 1999 on the illicit proliferation, circulation and trafficking of small arms and light weapons,

Further Noting with concern that the plight of millions of African children is worsening by the day due to war, their conscription for armed conflicts and their abusive exploitation in many respects,

Further Recalling the need to implement the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child and the African Charter on the Rights and Welfare of the Child,

Also Gravely concerned by the widespread incidence of HIV/AIDS and the ravages caused by other pandemics such as malaria, which seriously undermine Africa's development efforts,

Further concerned with the devastating effects of natural disasters in Africa on the lives of the peoples and on the national and regional economies,

Aware that development, democracy, respect for fundamental freedoms and human rights, good governance, tolerance, culture of peace are essential prerequisites for the establishment and maintenance of peace, security and stability,

Further Convinced that cultural diversity and dialogue among civilizations are sources of enrichment and progress,

Reiterating our faith in the Sirte declaration of 9 September 1999.
